Alternate method of running queries - script - Text version

Section 2, Lecture 23

To run a sql script, create a file (example: test1.sql) in your working directory and save it. Add all the sql code you want to run in there.

Start a SQL cli session and use the source keyword to execute it. If you wanted to run test1.sql type in:

source test1.sql